Defendant Was Convicted of Participation in Murder Near Feasterville

OCCURRED DEC. 22, '47

High Court's Decision Sustains Refusal of Lower Court for New Trial

By International News Service
HARRISBURG, May 27.—The State Supreme Court yesterday upheld the death penalty ordered by the Bucks County Court for David Darcy, of Philadelphia, convicted of participation in the get-away slaying of William Kelly, December 22, 1947, near Feasterville.

Four men, including Darcy, were convicted of the shooting following a Feasterville tavern holdup during the holiday season.

The other condemned men were Harold Foster, Harry Zietz and Felix Copone. Darcy did not testify during the trial and no evidence was entered in his behalf, according to the record.

The High Court's decision sustained the refusal of the lower court to grant a new trial.

Defense counsel argued when the case was before the Appellate bench at Philadelphia that the court of original jurisdiction was in error in allowing the trial jury to visit the scene of the slaying without the prisoner.

Dr. H. Doyle Webb Tells Of Waterfowl Migration

Dr. H. Doyle Webb, member of the Bristol Rotary Club, addressed fellow members when he spoke on the subject, "Migration of Waterfowl and Birds" at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon.

"The flight of birds in migration from their nesting grounds to their wintering grounds was recorded in Biblical times," Dr. Webb said. "Early theories of migration, however, were not based on facts as scientific studies in our time have revealed. Early theories of migration had it that the birds went to the moon, or hibernated in the marshlands. Today, through careful study and research we have detailed data on the movement of migratory waterfowl and birds from north to south in the winter and from the south to the north in the summer.

"Much of the flight movement has been traced through the use of banding. When recaptured the information on the bands has been noted and in this manner we have come to know the history of the flight movements of many birds and waterfowl."

The speaker outlined the major flyways followed by waterfowl each year in their migrations, pointing out that the Mississippi flyway was far more heavily traveled than the Atlantic, the Pacific or the western flyways.

Also reviewed by the speaker was the formation of Ducks Unlimited, a non-profit, nonsectarian organization, born in 1937 for the purpose of study, research, propagation and conservation, with chapters now located in 44 out of the 48 states, is supported entirely by voluntary contributions of sportsmen.

Following the talk two outstanding movies, "Ducks Unlimited" and "Prairie Wings" were shown. They outlined the work of Ducks Unlimited and described the movement, habits, and flight of ducks and geese.

Guests were present from Trenton, Bristol, Bensalem and California with president Warren Woodruff in charge of the meeting.

CLEAN-UP DRIVE TIME IS NEARLY OVER

There Remain Five Days In Which Dirt Must Be Routed

DONE YOUR PART YET?

Have you done your part in Bristol's "Clean-Up" Month?

If you haven't and if your neighbor hasn't, Bristol's "clean-up" has not made much progress. For "Clean-Up" month to be a success, every individual resident of Bristol must do his or her part. That means that you must rid your premises of all debris, trash and dirt of every description. Every resident must cooperate in the movement if it is to be a success. Twenty-six days of the campaign which extends throughout the month of May have gone. There are still plenty of nooks and corners which should be freed of their winter's accumulation and May is fast fleeting.

Many fires have started or been of greater seriousness because householders permitted undue accumulation of papers, rags and other material. Not only is the hazard of fire created, but also the possibility of disease-breeding spots. For the safety and health of your own family as well as that of your friends and neighbors it is your public duty to eliminate all such accumulations.

Keeping grass and weeds close cropped on vacant lots also prevents spread of disease by means of mosquitoes, flies and other insects. Garbage cans should be kept covered as these are great sources for the breeding of flies. Other empty vessels should either be kept covered or turned upside down so that rain will not fill them.

Filling in of depressions in the ground will prevent water accumulating and the creation of stagnant pools.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

Cannes—Glamorous Rita Hayworth, breath-taking in a bridal gown of ice-blue crepe but seven minutes late for her wedding, became a Moslem princess of untold wealth today with her marriage to Aly Khan in a simple French civil ceremony. Radiantly happy, the beautiful bride murmured "oui" when asked by Communist Mayor Paul Derigon of Valenciennes if she would take the dandy handsome Indian prince as her husband. And she nodded gracefully when he told her that under French law Aly Khan will be the lord and master of her household. It was a double-ring ceremony in keeping with French tradition. Rita was beautiful and smiling throughout, but Aly looked tired and was plainly irritated by the popping of flash-bulbs throughout and the hum of whispered conversation among the busy newsmen and photographers.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By John Harms
(I. N. S. Penna. Farm Editor)

HARRISBURG, May 27—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Committee of the Production and Marketing Administration today called the attention of farmers to the proposed charter of the International Trade Organization.

John A. Smith, Committee secretary, said farmers who produce commodities that the United States normally exports in large volumes have a direct interest in the ITO charter.

The charter is intended to be a framework within which member countries can consider the problems of the trade linking their economies on the basis of agreed rules for fair dealing, he said.

The ITO charter seeks to promote the expansion of international trade, to encourage the economic development of backward areas, and to improve standards of living throughout the world, according to Smith.

He explained the charter would set up a code of fair dealing in international trade calculated to avoid cut-throat competition and to establish multilateral, non-discriminatory trading.

"Perhaps the most important of all for agriculture," Smith declared, "the charter would require governments to sit down and discuss their trade policies with other countries who might be injured by them."

Significant charter provisions to farmers include: Equal access of foreign countries to the import market of any country, with certain exceptions, banning quota imports, with exceptions provided for quotas in connection with agricultural programs that include production or marketing controls or surplus disposal programs.

The charter also bans export subsidies. Exceptions are permitted, however, whenever a member considers that his interests would be seriously prejudiced if subsidies were not used, as when world market prices fall below the domestic price-support level.

The idea of forming an International Trade Charter was proposed by the United States to the nations of the world in 1945.

The Havana charter for an international Trade Organization was signed by the representatives of 54 nations in March 1948 in Cuba. The charter is up for ratification by the various governments, with 20 governmental approvals needed to put the program in force.

Smith said most nations were waiting to see what the U. S. will do.

The Production and Marketing Administration Committee said farmers may plan hog production for next fall and winter with assurances of price protection.

Clyde A. Zehner, Committee chairman, based his statement on the U. S. Agriculture Department's recent announcement the government would support hog prices at 90 per cent of parity through March 1950, the end of the marketing season for 1949 spring pigs.

Supports are intended to remove any uncertainties which might prompt unusually large marketings of hogs before December 31, 1949, he said.

Hog price supports at 90 per cent of parity are mandatory under legislation only through 1949, he declared, but support beyond that time is authorized under certain conditions.

The Department's established policy calls for announcement of support prices twice a year, before each six-month period.

SUNDAY DINNER
Suggestions

SUNDAY dinners designed to capitalize on the expansive feeling of well-being which settles over the average family at week's end are always welcomed by a housewife anxious to display the many cooking skills she has collected through the years.

For that reason the A & P Service for Homemakers suggests that crown roast of lamb with mushroom stuffing, complete with browned potato balls, minced new peas, and grilled tomato slices, be served your family this Sunday.

In purchasing the lamb roast have your butcher prepare the crown for the stuffing. Also have on hand a small quantity of salt pork. Place squares of salt pork over the ends to prevent charring. Season the crown with salt and pepper and fill with stuffing.

The stuffing consists of four cups of soft bread crumbs or cubes, 1/4 cup to 1/2 cup of melted fat, one teaspoon of salt, 1/4 teaspoon of pepper, 3/4 cup of chopped mushrooms and one cup of minced celery. Sage can be used for seasoning if desired.

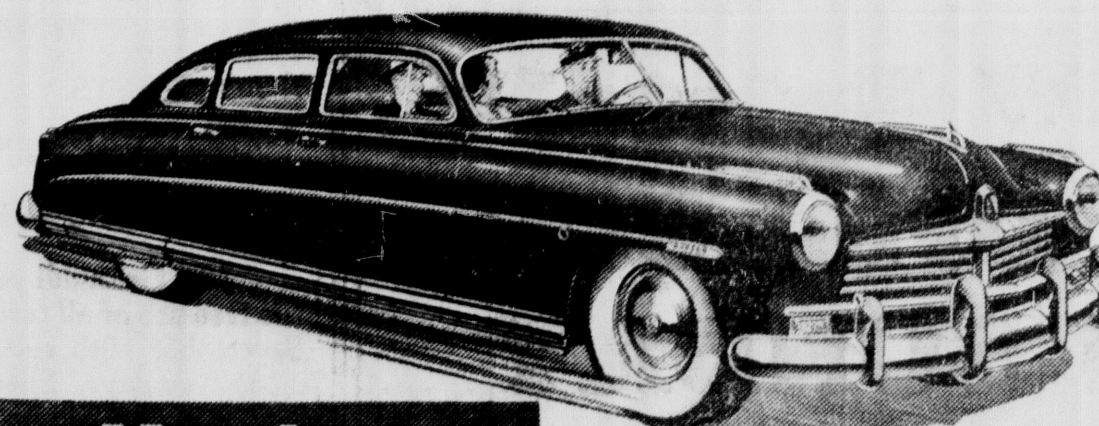

Place the roast on rack of roaster, but do not cover it and do not add water. Bake in slow (300°F.) oven for 30 minutes per pound. Then remove salt pork and place paper frills over the rib ends. Allow 1/4 pound of the roast or more, according to individual appetites, per serving.

To insure that other courses of this delicious meal will be as well appreciated as this roast is sure to be, devote a little extra time to the preparation of the vegetable dishes. Served with appropriate beverages and dessert, this dinner will send your family from the table well filled, and perhaps more important, well satisfied.

ENNNSBURY JRS.
WIN CHAMPIONSHIP
F. L. BUCKS COUNTY

FALLSINGTON, May 27 — With wins and one defeat, Pennsbury Junior High School won the Junior High Lower Bucks County championship for the season of 1949. The Falcons, coached by "Cy" Bachman, lost its opening game to Bristol by the score of 11-3. But after that defeat, Coach Bachman organized the team and won six straight games. It beat Council Rock, 14-4; Langhorne, 16-4; Bensalem, 7-2; Bristol Township, 15-8; Southampton, 9-6; and Morrisville, 5-1. Coach Bachman is quite happy over winning the Junior High championship. He was close to the title several times but this is the first time that his boys actually won the championship.

TULLYTOWN A. C. NINE
WINS 4TH STRAIGHT

TULLYTOWN, May 27 — Tullytown A. C. won its fourth straight game in the Bristol Suburban Softball circuit as it trimmed the Jefferson A. C. contingent, 9-1, last evening on the Kings' Farm field. The hurling of Claude Dietzler was too much for the Jefferson boys as they could only touch him for four hits. Two of the bingles were made by Tom Ruggieri and his first paved the way for the only Jefferson run. Dietzler was given errorless support by his mates. Tullytown batted two Jefferson pitchers for ten hits, four of which were for extra bases. The boys' Manager Tony Rappo counted seven of their nine runs in the first two innings.

with Mrs. Elizabeth Arner serves as substitute. Mrs. Hazel Rever substitute on Tuesday and Wednesday when Miss Stephanie Aluk, high school English teacher, was absent due to illness. Miss Arner, first grade teacher at Cornish Heights building, is conferring from an illness, she held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, Eddington.

The baseball game which Benjamin girls had scheduled with Mill Rock (Newtown) girls, yesterday, was postponed due to rain. A new date has been decided upon. The boys will play their final game at the home of Mr. and Mrs. St. Francis diamond, Eddington.

Reason for Delay Is Shower Preparation

Although her friends, Mrs. Walter Hansen and Mrs. R. S. Bartholomew, were unusually late in getting to go to their pinocchio club meeting Wednesday evening, Mrs. Ham Carey agreed to wait for them. When the trio finally arrived at the home of Mrs. William Drum-Fleetwing Estates, they found a group of Mrs. Carey's friends, and a table of pinocchio, they had a bassinet full of gifts.

All the guests were given pink, blue or blue crepe paper bibs to wear. Mrs. Carey was seated in a decorated arm chair, and with a white baby bonnet, and a baby "laundry" were strung over the ceiling, and paper cameras surrounding a miniature pinnet and baby centered over the table of refreshments.

Participating in the pinocchio club, Mrs. Carey received a "teeter-totter" and crib toys, as well as gifts from many others present. Besides above, also Mrs. Drumel and Mrs. Robert Green, who gave the pinnet on behalf of the club, those participating included: Mrs. Lawrence Harrison, Mrs. Samuel Jones, Mrs. Frank Messenger, Mrs. Ham Patterson, Mrs. Oswald Anderson, Mrs. Carl Lindberg, Mrs. Mary Nagel, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Daniel Scheffey, Mrs. Clifford Jones, Mrs. Robert Hyatt, Mrs. Raymond McGee, Mrs. James Ritter, Mrs. Lester Holston, Mrs. Robert Ashy and Mrs. David George.

Hamburgers and potato salad were served to the guests, followed by two unusual cakes, one chocolate and storks and similar decorations; the other, pink with blue icing, topped with a question mark, "Boy or Girl." Favors of candy in see-cornered paper "panties" were given to each guest.

Phila. Youths Admit Attack On Same Girl

have had some opportunity to know what breaking the law means and evidently it didn't make much of an impression on you." Tears ran down the youth's face as Judge Davis spoke to him.

James M. Perfidio and Joseph Dougherty are now serving prison sentences here from 4 to 18 months.

Another youth is in a reform school.

The girl, 14 years old, was picked up in Melherson Square in Northeast Phila., and is mentally retarded. She did not appear in court as a witness for the Commonwealth.

Signed confessions were read by Chief of Bristol Township Police Joseph Seader, who investigated the crime.

The boys and girl were surprised in a parked car by Chief Seader and Chief Linford J. Jones of the Bristol Police Department, who swooped down on them in a lonely area Sept. 22, 1948.

Facing her husband, Herbert Moore, of Erwinna, who pleaded guilty of being the father of the child of a 23-year-old girl, the defendant's wife told Judge Fred W. Davis: "My husband doesn't want our home broken up and neither do I. He isn't the first man to make a mistake and she was as much to blame for this trouble as he was."

Moore pleaded guilty to the charge and adultery. The Commonwealth will not press charges of adultery if the wife is willing to have them dropped.

Counsel for the 23-year-old unwed mother and for the defendant informed Judge Davis that they have practically agreed on a $800 outright settlement. The defendant has paid medical and hospital bills in connection with the birth of the child.

Judge Davis, who was about to dispose of the case, was temporarily halted when the mother of the unmarried prosecutrix, audibly gasped, causing Court officials to look in her direction.

Called before the bar, the mother, who said her health was not good and that she could offer no economic security for the child, explained that she did not feel that $800 was sufficient for a settlement considering the high cost of living.

She informed the Court she would much prefer a weekly support order but that since the prosecutrix, her daughter, was 23 years of age, the settlement must be effected between her and the defendant.

Judge Davis, who suspended sentence on condition that an $800 settlement be effected between the defendant and the prosecutrix, pointed out that they must make the decision and that the Court will have the final disposition.

Counsel for the defendant told the Court that Moore earns $49 a week, has a wife and two children in his own family and that he will have to borrow the $800 to make the final settlement.

Four Charter Members Attend Elks' Banquet

Four of the seven living charter members of Bristol Lodge, No. 979, E. P. O. Elks, were in attendance at the 14th annual banquet last evening. The four who were present to the gathering are: John P. Kessler, Pemberton M. Minster, Howard H. Thornton, and Lewis Worthington.

Covers were placed for 135 at the catered banquet in St. James' parish house, with light mignon as the main course. Serving as co-master was John P. Betz, Jr., Esq., trustee of the lodge.

Among those introduced in addition to charter members were the past exalted ruler, William E. Cross. A gift from the membership was presented to Joseph L. Norton, retiring exalted ruler. Horace P. Schmidt, district deputy grand exalted ruler, southeastern Penna., was presented to the group, as was also Pemberton M. Minster, a past state president, and past district deputy.

Later in the evening a two-hour program of vaudeville numbers was staged in the Elks' home.

No wants too small or great that a Want Ad will not solve.

SQUARE DANCES CONTINUE

Such a fine crowd turned out last Friday night to enjoy the square dances at St. James' parish house that St. James' Social League has arranged for the same entertainment this evening. If a sufficient number of enthusiastic dancers show up, it is quite possible that the league may continue these "hill-billy" frolics throughout the summer—for at least as long as Bristolians give fire support. The time is 8:45, when Herbert Terry will begin calling out the favorite numbers.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

BY JOE ELBERSON

You missed it . . . if you weren't on hand for the big quarterly meeting of the Edgely Rod & Gun Club Tuesday evening in the new Community House in Edgely, you missed a lot of real fellowship and entertainment. In addition to open discussions on problems of importance to sportsmen there were refreshments, prizes and good movies.

Unexpected return . . . at this time of year the local run of suckers is practically history. Recent storms, however, have kept streams riled and a second run of suckers has been experienced. This was particularly true of the Nesheany Creek at Hulmeville. On Sunday there were dozens of anglers stretched out along the creek below the dam, and suckers were being taken. The same was true of a number of streams above Yardley which empty into the Delaware.

New gun . . . a new Winchester shotgun has been announced by the Winchester company. This new gun, known as Model 25, is a slide action, solid frame repeater. Medium-priced, the Model 25 is the third gun brought out by Winchester this year and is the latest addition to the large family of world-famous Winchester sporting firearms.

Starting deliveries against allotment orders are expected by mid-summer. Supplied in 12-gauge, solid frame, standard grade only, the gun has a 28-inch barrel and is chambered for 2 3/4 inch shells. It is available in either full or modified choke. The tubular magazine will hold four shells plus one in the chamber.

Big business . . . recent statistics show that for equipment and incidental costs alone the American fisherman paid last year the sum of $1,350,000,000, while the hunter put out of pocket $750,000,000. That totals $2,100,000,000—a sizable bankroll. Americans paid for bowling $730,000,000; for golf $675,000,000; for skiing $165,000,000, and for motor boating $500,000,000. Combined they total $10,000,000 less than the angler and hunter spent. There are, of course, other items to be added to the sportsmen's total, which, it is estimated, doubles the average figure for the pursuit of fish and game.

Efficiency . . . in the financial statement for the year 1948 issued by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission one item stands out in bold relief. It is this: 60.5 cents out of every dollar spent went for the propagation and distribution of fish. It is a commendable percentage of the fisherman's dollar being used to give him what he wants most—more fish.

It is commendable, too, when we realize that the remaining portion of each dollar must cover the following necessary expenditures of the Commission: salaries and expenses of wardens; Dept. of Revenue and

MORRIS ON MOUND BEATS ASHBY AND BRISTOL HIGH LOSES

"Russ" Morris had the better of Joe Ashby in a hurling duel on Memorial Park field yesterday afternoon as Council Rock nosed out Bristol High, 3-2, to end the Warriors' winning streak of six straight Lower Bucks County League games. It was the second time this season that Council Rock beat Bristol, the only team to beat the locals.

Coach "Sags" Sagolla's boys were trailing, 1-0 as they went into their last turn with the bat. Joe Ashby hit Morris with a pitched ball and Flatch got on via an error by Joe Pindar. Warrick struck out and Flatch was picked off first for the second out. Ashby ran into real difficulty as Bob Ettenger, Titus, and Miller came through with bingles to net a trio of markers.

Bristol attempted a rally in the last part of the frame and scored a run on a walk to Petrizzi, a hit by Dominick and two infield outs. Dominick was out at the plate for the final putout of the contest.

The Warriors were held to three hits by Morris with two going to Marty Braum who also was hit with a pitched ball. Ashby gave Council Rock five hits with Whiteside getting two. Ashby issued blanks until the seventh. He had five strike-outs, the same as Morris.

The game was played throughout a steady drizzle which made playing difficult.

You look ahead through a curved windshield that contains 30% more glass area . . . and that sweeps back to meet the narrower corner posts in their new out-of-the-way position.

You look down over a hood and front end so smoothly and gracefully rounded that you can see the road a full 11 feet closer in. ## SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS DARCY'S DEATH PENALTY

Defendant Was Convicted of Participation in Murder Near Feasterville

OCCURRED DEC. 22, '47

High Court's Decision Sustains Refusal of Lower Court for New Trial

By International News Service
HARRISBURG, May 27 — The State Supreme Court yesterday upheld the death penalty ordered by the Bucks County Court for David Darcy, of Philadelphia, convicted of participation in the get-away slaying of William Kelly, December 22, 1947, near Feasterville.

Four men, including Darcy, were convicted of the shooting following a Feasterville tavern holdup during the holiday season.

The other condemned men were Harold Foster, Harry Zietz and Felix Copone. Darcy did not testify during the trial and no evidence was entered in his behalf, according to the record.

The High Court's decision sustained the refusal of the lower court to grant a new trial.

Defense counsel argued when the case was before the Appellate bench at Philadelphia that the court of original jurisdiction was in error in allowing the trial jury to visit the scene of the slaying without the prisoner.

Dr. H. Doyle Webb Tells Of Waterfowl Migration

Dr. H. Doyle Webb, member of the Bristol Rotary Club, addressed fellow members when he spoke on the subject, "Migration of Waterfowl and Birds" at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon.

"The flight of birds in migration from their nesting grounds to their wintering grounds was recorded in Biblical times," Dr. Webb said.

"Early theories of migration, however, were not based on facts as scientific studies in our time have revealed. Early theories of migration had it that the birds went to the moon, or hibernated in the marshlands. Today, through careful study and research we have detailed data on the movement of migratory waterfowl and birds from north to south in the winter and from the south to the north in the summer.

"Much of the flight movement has been traced through the use of banding. When recaptured the information on the bands has been noted and in this manner we have come to know the history of the flight movements of many birds and waterfowl."

The speaker outlined the major flyways followed by waterfowl each year in their migrations, pointing out that the Mississippi flyway was far more heavily traveled than the Atlantic, the Pacific or the western flyways.

Also reviewed by the speaker was the formation of Ducks Unlimited, a non-profit, nonsectarian organization, born in 1937 for the purpose of study, research, propagation and conservation, with chapters now located in 44 out of the 48 states, is supported entirely by voluntary contributions of sportsmen.

Following the talk two outstanding movies, "Ducks Unlimited" and "Prairie Wings" were shown. They outlined the work of Ducks Unlimited and described the movement, habits, and flight of ducks and geese.

Guests were present from Trenton, Bristol, Bensalem and California with president Warren Woodruff in charge of the meeting.

CLEAN-UP DRIVE TIME IS NEARLY OVER

There Remain Five Days In Which Dirt Must Be Routed

DONE YOUR PART YET?

Have you done your part in Bristol's "Clean-Up" Month?

If you haven't and if your neighbor hasn't, Bristol's "clean-up" has not made much progress. For "Clean-Up" month to be a success, every individual resident of Bristol must do his or her part. That means that you must rid your premises of all debris, trash and dirt of every description. Every resident must cooperate in the movement if it is to be a success. Twenty-six days of the campaign which extends throughout the month of May have gone. There are still plenty of nooks and corners which should be freed of their winter's accumulation and May is fast fleeting.

Many fires have started or been of greater seriousness because accumulation of papers, rags and other material. Not only is the hazard of fire created, but also the possibility of disease-breeding spots. For the safety and health of your own family as well as that of your friends and neighbors it is your public duty to eliminate all such accumulations.

Keeping grass and weeds close cropped on vacant lots also prevents spread of disease by means of mosquitoes, flies and other insects. Garbage cans should be kept covered as these are great sources for the breeding of flies. Other empty vessels should either be kept covered or turned upside down so that rain will not fill them.

Filling in of depressions in the ground will prevent water accumulation and the creation of stagnant pools.

The strawberry festival which the Ladies Auxiliary of the Edgely Fire Company are holding on Saturday evening from 6 to 8 p. m., will be held in the new fire hall. There will be home-made cake, ice cream, strawberries and coffee.

JOHN L.'S REQUEST

Back in 1936, when the Congress of Industrial Organizations was fighting for eminence in the labor movement, John L. Lewis, then a CIO luminary, decided to short-cut the monumental organizing job confronting him by making use of the tough Communist cells already well established in labor.

They offered good possibilities.
They were tireless and thorough.
They would stop at nothing to get what they wanted, though it meant violence that bordered on revolution. The reasoning seems to have been that after these Commies had done the organizing, they could be junked when the time was right.

The organizing was accomplished. The CIO flourished and grew like a weed, but so did the influence of the Red cells within the movement. So, when John L. split off from the CIO, he left a bequest to Philip Murray that has proved embarrassing to the latter.

Communist influence in the CIO was probably at its peak during the war years, when the line from Moscow directed every good party man to work like a beaver in the American war effort. Came V-J Day, and the line changed.
Masks dropped off, and a fight of sorts to oust the Reds from the CIO began.

Walter Reuther, international president of the UAW-CIO, was successful in weeding out most of the Red influence in his union, although the Commie hand was shown in the strike that began ahead of schedule against Ford.

Murray laid it on the line at the recent CIO executive board meeting in Washington. Board members with leftist leanings were told to resign or face expulsion from it by the CIO convention, which will meet in October. The action was adopted by the board by a vote of 29-6, with the minority including that group whose Red leanings are well known.

But the resolution was far from clear cut. As James B.
Carey, CIO secretary-treasurer, explained it, henceforth a CIO union leader "can be a fine Communist, but can't act like one."
This may be a fine thought, but it is a factual impossibility. It looks as though John L.'s bequest will continue to haunt Murray.

Something always threatens the Kansas wheat crop at this time of year. This time it is rust, but there have been no reports that Jayhawkers are disposing of their combines.

This is the year men are to have the bold look in dress. But last year's suit seems to be suffering from an inferiority complex.

It seems a certain Congressional appropriation was doubled by accident, which shows what can happen when you get careless with other people's money.

Latest prediction is that insects, instead of the Russians, will take over the world.

Darcy's Death Penalty

In the decision returned by Chief Justice George W. Maxey, of Scrat-ton, upheld the lower court's ruling; and said "Under the decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court and this court there was no error in permitting the jury to visit the location of the crime in absence of the prisoner . . . since the trial judge did not allow testimony or argument during the view."

A dissenting opinion was to be filed by Justice Charles Alvin Jones,

Choosing New Items of Make-Up

A lipstick which holds two shades in one container is a practical item for your handbag. This way, you have a light and a dark shade always at hand.

By HELEN FOLLETT

MANY girls who have been flaunting vivid make-up are naturalizing their complexions. We refer, of course, to those smarties who keep up with the fashion trend.
For the bright synthetic bloom on the cheeks, the wild rose tone is being substituted. The vermilion and cherry lip pigment are definitely out.

Among the powder offerings on cosmetic counters you will find delicate flesh tints that give softness and smoothness to the skin. There are also some flattering pink and ivory blends. The why of all that is that factory blushes have been overdone, have gone into a decline, as must all beauty fads in due course of time. The scenic face is not harmonious with present day styles in dress.

A Sparing Hand

Put on powder with a sparing hand, adding if you need to. See that the light film is spread evenly. Then tap the flesh lightly with your fingertips. Put a little mineral oil on your eyebrows and lashes by way of contrast to the dull finish produced by the powder.

The pale girl will hang onto her rouge compact, but she should get at the cause of her beauty grief. If she will get more exercise out of doors, work up a healthy appetite, eat a woman-size meal three times a day she will get some color in her cheeks.

While lipsticks have inclined toward wine shades, there are some new orange-red ones that are lovely on blondes whose complexions carry a golden cast. One company even makes two separate shades which are contained in a single case. This way, you can have a light and dark shade always on hand.

Be slow in making selections of make-up items. Getting the right colors is half the trick of putting up a pretty portrait. Use a strong mirror placed in a strong light. Take your time. Making a new face is one job that cannot be hurried.

Girl of Four Invites Playmates To A Party

Eileen Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Horace Cox, Fleetwing road,

"pin-the-tail on the donkey" for which prizes were given. Refreshments were served. Favors were baskets filled with candy, and hats.

Those attending: Ethel Adams,
Barbara Van Cleave, Linda Summers, Master Whitney, Carol Ann Hutchinson, Joy Harmsen, Virginia Ben-

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By John Harms
(L. N. S. Penna. Farm Editor)

HARRISBURG, May 27—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Committee of the Production and Marketing Administration today called the attention of farmers to the proposed charter of the International Trade Organization.

John A. Smith, committee secretary, said farmers who produce commodities that the United States normally exports in large volumes have a direct interest in the ITO charter.

The charter is intended to be a framework within which member countries can consider the problems of the trade linking their economies on the basis of agreed rules for fair dealing, he said.

The ITO charter seeks to promote the expansion of international trade, to encourage the economic development of backward areas, and to improve standards of living throughout the world, according to Smith.

He explained the charter would set up a code of fair dealing in international trade calculated to avoid cut-throat competition and to establish multilateral, non-discriminatory trading.

"Perhaps the most important of all for agriculture," Smith declared, "the charter would require governments to sit down and discuss their trade policies with other countries who might be injured by them."

Significant charter provisions to farmers include: Equal access of foreign countries to the import market of any country, with certain exceptions, banning quota imports, with exceptions provided for quotas in connection with agricultural programs that include production or marketing controls or marketing controls or surplus disposal programs.

The charter also bans export subsidies. Exceptions are permitted, however, whenever a member considers that his interests would be seriously prejudiced if subsidies were not used, as when world market prices fall below the domestic price-support level.

The idea of forming an International Trade Charter was proposed by the United States to the nations of the world in 1945.

The Havana charter for an International Trade Organization was signed by the representatives of 54 nations in March 1948 in Cuba. The charter is up for ratification by the various governments, with 20 governmental approvals needed to put the program in force.

Smith said most nations were waiting to see what the U. S. will do.

The Production and Marketing Administration Committee said farmers may plan hog production for next fall and winter with assurances of price protection.

Clyde A. Zehner, committee chairman, based his statement on the U. S. Agriculture Department's recent announcement the government would support hog prices at 90 per cent of parity through March 1950, the end of the marketing season for 1949 spring pigs.

Supports are intended to remove any uncertainties which might prompt unusually large marketings of hogs before December 31, 1949, he said.

Hog price supports at 90 per cent of parity are mandatory under legislation only through 1949, he declared, but support beyond that time is authorized under certain conditions.

The Department's established policy calls for announcement of support prices twice a year, before each six-month's period.

Legislation Increasing Teachers' Pay Approved

HARRISBURG, May 27—(INS)—Legislation increasing teachers' salaries and retirement benefits by approximately $9,000,000 today had the approval of Gov. James H. Duff. The teachers pay and retirement legislation was among 14 measures signed into law last night by the chief executive.

Under one new act, minimum salaries for starting teachers will be boosted from $1950 to $2000 a year, while automatic annual pay increments will be increased from $150 to $200. The act becomes effective July 1.

In addition, the measure provides $1000 annual pay boosts for county superintendents and grants proportionate increases to district superintendents.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

SUNDAY dinners designed to capitalize on the expansive feeling of well-being which settles over the average family at week's end are always welcomed by a housewife anxious to display the many cooking skills she has collected through the years.

For that reason the A & P Service for Homemakers suggests that crown roast of lamb with mushroom stuffing, complete with browned potato balls, minted new peas, and grilled tomato slices, be served your family this Sunday.

In purchasing the lamb roast have your butcher prepare the crown for the stuffing. Also have on hand a small quantity of salt pork. Place squares of salt pork over the ends to prevent charring. Season the crown with salt and pepper and fill with stuffing.

The stuffing consists of four cups of soft bread crumbs or cubes, 1/2 cup to 1 cup of melted fat, one teaspoon of salt, 1/2 teaspoon of pepper, 1/4 cup of chopped mushrooms and one cup of minced celery. Sage can be used for seasoning if desired.

Place the roast on rack of roaster, but do not cover it and do not add water. Bake in slow (300° F.) oven for 30 minutes per pound. Then remove salt pork and place paper frills over the rib ends. Allow 1/4 pound of the roast or more, according to individual appetites, per serving.

To insure that other courses of this delicious meal will be as well appreciated as this roast is sure to be, devote a little extra time to the preparation of the vegetable dishes. Served with appropriate beverages and dessert, this dinner will send your family from the table well filled, and perhaps more important, well satisfied.

Reason for Delay Is Shower Preparation

Although her friends, Mrs. Walter Hansen and Mrs. R. S. Bartholomew, were unusually late in getting to go to their pinocle club meeting Wednesday evening, Mrs. Ham Carey agreed to wait for them. When the trio finally arrived at the home of Mrs. William Drum-Fleetwing Estates, they found a group of Mrs. Carey's friends, and a table full of pinocle, and a bassinet full of gifts.

If the guests were given pink, blue or blue crepe paper bibs to wear, Mrs. Carey was seated in a decorated armchair, and attended with a white baby bonnet. The baby "laundry" were strung on the ceiling, and paper pinners surrounding a miniature pinet and baby centered over the table of refreshments. From the members of the pinocle club, Mrs. Carey received a "coterie" and crib toys, as well as gifts in many others present. Besides the above, also Mrs. Drumel and Mrs. Robert Green, who gave the wedding behalf of the club, those participating included: Mrs. Lawrence Harrison, Mrs. Samuel Jones, Mrs. Frank Messenger, Mrs. William Patterson, Mrs. Oswald Anderson, Mrs. Carl Lindberg, Mrs. Mary Nagel, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Daniel Scheffey, Mrs. Clifford Jones, Mrs. Robert Hyatt, Mrs. Raymond McGee, Mrs. James Ritter, Mrs. Lester Holston, Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. David George.

Lambburgers and potato salad were served to the guests, followed by two unusual cakes, one chocolate and storks and similar decorations; the other, pink with blue top, topped with a question-mark, "Boy or Girl." Favors of candy in see-cornered paper "panties" were given to each guest.

New Law Aimed To Aid Pupils Boarding Buses

HARRISBURG, May 27—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today signed into law legislation which will require all motor vehicles to come to a complete halt when approaching school buses loading or discharging pupils.

The "school bus" measure approved by the Governor will require all traffic to come to a halt within 10 feet of school buses halted on roads and highways to pick-up or discharge children. The measure will become effective September 1. Motorists failing to halt for school buses will be liable to a $20 fine or 10 days in jail under penalty provisions of the act.

Ten Young Women Serve As Models at A Show

Ten local young women served as models when a fashion show was staged for benefit of Bristol Business Girls' Club on Tuesday evening in the Travel Club home. The theme was "A Trip to Bermuda," the setting being a costume shop. Motion pictures showing scenes in Bermuda followed.

? Phila. Youths Admit Attack On Same Girl

have had some opportunity to know what breaking the law means and evidently it didn't make much of an impression on you." Tears ran down the youth's face as Judge Davis spoke to him.

James M. Perfidio and Joseph Dougherty are now serving prison sentences here from 4 to 18 months.

Another youth is in a reform school.

The girl, 14 years old, was picked up in McElhorney Square in Northeast Phila., and is mentally retarded. She did not appear in court as a witness for the Commonwealth.

Signed confessions were read by Chief of Bristol Township Police Joseph Seader, who investigated the crime.

The boys and girl were surprised in a parked car by Chief Seader and Chief Linford J. Jones of the Bristol Police Department, who swooped down on them in a lonely area Sept. 22, 1948.

Facing her husband, Herbert Moore, of Erwinna, who pleaded guilty of being the father of the child of a 23-year-old girl, the defendant's wife told Judge Fred W. Davis: "My husband doesn't want our home broken up and neither do I. He isn't the first man to make a mistake and she was as much to blame for this trouble as he was."

Moore pleaded guilty to the charge and adultery. The Commonwealth will not press charges of adultery if the wife is willing to have them dropped.

Counsel for the 23-year-old unwed mother and for the defendant informed Judge Davis that they have practically agreed on an $800 outright settlement. The defendant has paid medical and hospital bills in connection with the birth of the child.

Judge Davis, who was about to dispose of the case, was temporarily halted when the mother of the unmarried prosecutrix, audibly gasped, causing Court officials to look in her direction.

Called before the bar, the mother, who said her health was not good and that she could offer no economic security for the child, explained that she did not feel that $800 was sufficient for a settlement considering the high cost of living.

She informed the Court she would much prefer a weekly support order but that since the prosecutrix, her daughter, was 23 years of age, the settlement must be effected between her and the defendant.

Judge Davis, who suspended sentence on condition that an $800 settlement be effected between the defendant and the prosecutrix, pointed out that they must make the decision and that the Court will have the final disposition.

Counsel for the defendant told the Court that Moore earns $49 a week, has a wife and two children in his own family and that he will have to borrow the $800 to make the final settlement.

Covers were placed for 185 at the catered banquet in St. James' parish house, with diet mignon as the main course. Serving as toastmaster was John P. Betz, Jr., Esq., trustee of the lodge.

Among those introduced in addition to charter members were the past exalted ruler, William S. Cross. A gift from the membership was presented to Joseph L. Norton, retiring exalted ruler. Horace P. Schmidt, district deputy grand exalted ruler, southeastern Penna., was presented to the group, as was also Pemberton M. Minster, a past state president, and past district deputy.

Such a fine crowd turned out last Friday night to enjoy the square dances at St. James' parish house that St. James' Social League has arranged for the same entertainment this evening. If a sufficient number of enthusiastic dancers show up, it is quite possible that the league may continue these "hill-billy" frolics throughout the summer—for at least as long as Bristolians give fire support. The time is 8.45, when Herbert Terry will begin calling out the favorite numbers.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis
Pastor
Eddington Presbyterian Church

Dear Father, we thank Thee for another week of work. Today is pay day for so many of Thy children. Teach us, O God, that our pay will go further if we take Thee as our Partner. Our pay and Thee can change this week end for us. Help us to pay our debts and may we not overlook our tithes and offerings in the interest of the Kingdom of God. Without Thee we can do nothing. With Thee nothing is impossible. Help us to really believe this for we pray in Jesus' Name. Amen.

William Booz Steeley, Sellersville and Miss Marie May Talbot, Reading.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

BY JOE ELKERSON

You missed it . . . if you weren't on hand for the big quarterly meeting of the Edgely Rod & Gun Club Tuesday evening in the new Community House in Edgely, you missed a lot of real fellowship and entertainment. In addition to open discussions on problems of importance to sportsmen there were refreshments, prizes and good movies.

Unexpected return . . . at this time of year the local run of suckers is practically history. Recent storms, however, have kept streams riled and a second run of suckers has been experienced. This was particularly true of the Nesheamly Creek at Hulmeville. On Sunday there were dozens of anglers stretched out along the creek below the dam, and suckers were being taken. The same was true of a number of streams above Yardley which empty into the Delaware.

New gun . . . a new Winchester shotgun has been announced by the Winchester company. This new gun, known as Model 25, is a slide action, solid frame repeater. Medium-priced, the Model 25 is the third gun brought out by Winchester this year and is the latest addition to the large family of world-famous Winchester sporting firearms.

Starting deliveries against allotment orders are expected by mid-summer. Supplied in 12-gauge, solid frame, standard grade 7075, the gun has a 28-inch barrel and is chambered for 2 3/4 inch shells. It is available in either full or modified choke. The tubular magazine will hold four shells plus one in the chamber.

Big business . . . recent statistics show that for equipment and incidental costs alone the American fisherman paid last year the sum of $1,250,000,000, while the hunter put out of pocket $750,000,000. That totals $2,000,000,000—a sizable bankroll. Americans paid for bowling $750,000,000; for golf $675,000,000; for skiing $165,000,000, and for motor boating $500,000,000. Combined they total $10,000,000,000 less than the angler and hunter spent. There are, of course, other items to be added to the sportsmen's total, which, it is estimated, doubles the average figure for the pursuit of fish and game.

Efficiency . . . in the financial statement for the year 1948 issued by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission one item stands out in bold relief. It is this: 60.65 cents out of every dollar spent went for the propagation and distribution of fish. It is a commendable percentage of the fisherman's dollar being used to give him what he wants most—more fish.

It is commendable, too, when we realize that the remaining portion of each dollar must cover the following necessary expenditures of the Commission: salaries and expenses of wardens; Dept. of Revenue and

Dept. of State; administration; publicity; research-boat patrol—legal-refunded fines; and new construction.

It is even more commendable when you compare it with what the Pennsylvania Game Commission gave out of each dollar spent by hunters for propagation and stocking of game—approximately 24 cents!

MORRIS ON MOUND BEATS ASHBY AND BRISTOL HIGH LOSES

"Russ" Morris had the better of Joe Ashby in a hurling duel yesterday afternoon as Council Rock nosed out Bristol High, 3-2, to end the Warriors' winning streak of six straight Lower Bucks County League games. It was the second time this season that Council Rock beat Bristol, the only team to beat the locals.

Catch "Sags" Sagolla's boys were trailing, 1-0 as they went into their last turn with the bat. Joe Ashby hit Morris with a pitched ball and Flatch got on via an error by Joe Pindar. Warrick struck out and Flatch was picked off first for the second out. Ashby ran into real difficulty as Bob Ettenger, Titus, and Miller came through with bingles to net a trio of markers.

Bristol attempted a rally in the last part of the frame and scored a run on a walk to Petrizzi, a hit by Dominick and two infield outs. Dominick was out at the plate for the final putout of the contest.

The Warriors were held to three hits by Morris with two going to Marty Braam who also was hit with a pitched ball. Ashby gave Council Rock five hits with Whiteside getting two. Ashby issued blanks until the seventh. He had five strikeouts, the same as Morris.

The game was played throughout a steady drizzle which made playing difficult.
